PERMAGLASS BORE CASING & PUMP COLUMN THE BUSINESS NOW HAS NEW OWNERS

Advanced Pump Technologies Pty Ltd of Perth and RPC Technologies Pty Ltd of Sydney are pleased to announce a joint venture between the two companies, acquiring as they have, all business assets including the manufacturing plant and technology for Permaglass FRP Bore Casing and Pump Column from Fibrelogic Pty Ltd of Lonsdale South Australia.

Advanced Pump Technologies directors have a combined 25 years experience providing sales and technical support for Permaglass in Western Australia. One director was also Managing Director of IPS Composites Pty Ltd the original developer and manufacturer of Permaglass during an 18 month business restructure phase prior to being acquired by Fibrelogic Pty Ltd.

With an operational history spanning more than 30 years RPC Technologies is unchallenged as Australasia's premier designer and manufacturer of quality fibre composite products. As a significant group, RPC Technologies is able to provide a full range of reinforced plastics and composites products, from advanced composites for defence equipment to large and small-bore piping, ducting, and odour control systems.

In addition, RPC Technologies supplies specialist interior and exterior ballistic and fire retardant composite parts to manufacturers of passenger rail vehicles from Australia and the rest of the world.

RPC Technologies is a manufacturer of considerable experience and recognised quality; these attributes will be integral to the manufacture of all Permaglass products. Advanced Pump Technologies will provide dedicated support to the Permaglass brand in the market covering as it will all sales, technical support, stock control and logistics matters.

RPC Technologies and Advanced Pump Technologies will reinvigorate the Permaglass brand through product improvement including research and development and maintenance of a strong and committed service and distribution channel.
